

Exodus 27:20

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And thou shalt command the children of Israel, that they bring thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamp to burn always.

Analysis

Pure beaten olive oil for the lampstand's light—the oil must be the finest quality, extracted by beating/crushing (not pressing), and olive oil (symbol of the Spirit). The command for perpetual light ('burn always') means the priesthood must never let it extinguish. Christ, anointed by the Spirit without measure (John 3:34), is the perpetual light. His light never dims, never needs rekindling. Our lives, as lamps, require continuous supply of the Spirit's oil.

Historical Context

Beaten oil (כָּתִית, katit) was produced by crushing olives in a mortar, yielding the purest oil. This premium oil burned cleanest and brightest, appropriate for the sacred lampstand. Ordinary pressed oil sufficed for common use, but God's light required the best.

Study Questions

1. How does 'beaten' oil represent the Spirit's work through suffering and crushing?
2. What enables Christ's light to burn perpetually while ours requires daily refilling?
