

Exodus 28:40

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And for Aaron's sons thou shalt make coats, and thou shalt make for them girdles, and bonnets shalt thou make for them, for glory and for beauty.

Analysis

Coats, bonnets (turbans), and girdles (sashes) for Aaron's sons—the common priests. Unlike Aaron's elaborate garments, theirs are simpler but share essential elements: linen coats (righteousness), bonnets (consecrated minds), girdles (service readiness). All priests, whether high priest (Christ) or common priests (believers), must be clothed in righteousness, mentally consecrated, and ready for service. The shared garments show both distinction (different roles) and unity (same essential clothing).

Historical Context

The common priests' garments were substantial and dignified but less ornate than the high priest's. This reflected their real but subordinate role—they assisted the high priest rather than entering the Most Holy Place alone.

Study Questions

1. How do believers as 'common priests' share essential spiritual clothing with Christ the High Priest?
2. What does wearing 'garments for glory and beauty' teach about the dignity of believer-priesthood?
