

Exodus 33:18

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory.

Analysis

And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory—Having secured God's presence for Israel, Moses requests the ultimate privilege: seeing God's קָבוֹד (kavod, 'glory/weightiness'). This isn't presumption but deepened hunger—each revelation increases desire for more. Moses has experienced God's presence, friendship, and favor; now he seeks the beatific vision itself. This request reveals that knowing God intellectually and relationally still leaves the soul yearning for fuller comprehension. Moses anticipates every believer's ultimate hope: 'we shall see him as he is' (1 John 3:2). The boldness demonstrates that intimacy breeds greater longing, not satisfaction.

Historical Context

Previous theophanies (burning bush, Exodus 3; Sinai, Exodus 19) revealed God partially. Moses' request reflects human longing to transcend mediated revelation and encounter God's essential glory directly—a longing only fulfilled eschatologically.

Study Questions

1. Does your experience of God's presence increase your hunger for more of Him, or does familiarity breed complacency?
2. How does Moses' insatiable desire for God challenge your contentment with shallow spiritual experience?
