

Exodus 33:6

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the children of Israel stripped themselves of their ornaments by the mount Horeb.

Analysis

And the children of Israel stripped themselves of their ornaments by the mount Horeb—Obedience follows command (v.5). The location 'mount Horeb' (Sinai) emphasizes the irony: at the very place they received the law and saw God's glory, they had rebelled. Now they strip away the trappings of pride and false worship. This external act symbolizes internal contrition. Yet stripping ornaments cannot restore fellowship—only God's gracious intervention through Moses' intercession (vv.12-23) will accomplish that.

Historical Context

Horeb and Sinai refer to the same mountain, with Horeb meaning 'desolate' or 'waste.' The mountain served as God's appointed meeting place with Israel, making their idolatry there particularly grievous.
