

Exodus 34:17

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Thou shalt make thee no molten gods.

Analysis

The command against 'molten gods' (אֱלֹהִים מְסֻכָּה, elohei masekah) directly addresses the golden calf incident (32:4). Cast metal idols represent human craftsmanship claiming divine status—the ultimate hubris. This prohibition recalls the second commandment and emphasizes that God cannot be represented by human art. All idolatry reduces the infinite to the finite, the spiritual to the material.

Historical Context

Molten (cast metal) idols were common in ancient Near Eastern religion. The golden calf was likely modeled after Egyptian Apis bull worship or Canaanite Baal imagery.
