

Exodus 36:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The length of one curtain was twenty and eight cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: the curtains were all of one size.

Analysis

The precise measurements—28 cubits length, 4 cubits width (approximately 42' × 6')—demonstrate that following God's pattern (25:9) requires exact obedience, not approximate compliance. The phrase 'one size for all the curtains' (מִדָּה אַחַת לְכֹל הַיֵּרֵיעוֹת, middah achat lekhol-hayeri'ot) emphasizes uniformity and order in God's house. This consistency enables proper joining and structural integrity, illustrating that God's people must follow common standards to work together effectively in building His dwelling—diversity of function within unity of purpose.

Historical Context

Ancient Near Eastern measurements varied by region, but Israel used standardized cubits based on the length from elbow to fingertip (approximately 18 inches). The specific dimensions allowed the ten curtains to join into two sets of five, creating a cohesive ceiling and wall structure.

Study Questions

1. What does the requirement for exact, uniform measurements teach about precision in following God's instructions?
2. How does uniformity of basic elements (curtains) enabling diversity of function (different areas) illustrate unity and diversity in Christ's body?
