

Ezekiel 20:33

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you:

Analysis

'As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you.' God's oath: He will rule over Israel despite their rebellion. The oath formula emphasizes certainty. 'Mighty hand' and 'stretched out arm' recall exodus language. 'Fury poured out' indicates judgment. The paradox: through judgment, God maintains sovereignty over His people. They cannot escape His lordship through rebellion.

Historical Context

The exile was both punishment and preservation. Through judgment, God purged idolatry and maintained covenant relationship. The 'mighty hand' and 'stretched out arm' that brought exodus from Egypt would bring restoration from Babylon. God's sovereignty ensures His purposes prevail despite human unfaithfulness.

Study Questions

1. How does understanding God's sovereignty through judgment provide hope rather than despair?
2. What does it mean that we cannot escape God's lordship through rebellion?
