

Ezekiel 20:45

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

Analysis

The word of the LORD came unto me (וַיָּהִי דְּבָרֵי יְהָוָה אֲלֵי) vayehi devar-YHWH elay) —Ezekiel's signature prophetic formula appears 50+ times in his book. The phrase (דְּבָרֵי יְהָוָה) (devar-YHWH, word of the LORD) emphasizes divine origin and authority. Ezekiel never spoke on his own initiative but only when God's word came to him.

This verse introduces the 'forest fire' oracle (20:45-49), which becomes clearer in chapter 21 where Ezekiel identifies the 'forest' as Jerusalem and Judah. The prophetic message formula saying (לֹאמֶר, lemor) signals incoming judgment. Ezekiel received visions and oracles during Babylon's exile (593-571 BC), ministering to those who refused to believe Jerusalem would fall.

Historical Context

Ezekiel prophesied from Tel-abib in Babylon (593 BC), six years before Jerusalem's destruction. The exiles initially dismissed his warnings, believing the city and temple were inviolable. This oracle begins Ezekiel's most sustained prophecy against Jerusalem (chapters 20-24).

Study Questions

1. How does Ezekiel's consistent attribution of messages to God's word challenge modern prophetic claims?
2. Why do people often reject clear warnings of coming judgment, even from God's messengers?
