

Ezekiel 21:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

Analysis

"Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel," God commands confrontational posture—"set thy face toward Jerusalem" indicates hostile opposition. "Drop thy word" (hatef, הַטֵּף) means prophesy or preach with intensity. Even "holy places" (mikdashim, מִקְדָּשִׁים) receive judgment—religious sites don't guarantee protection when defiled by sin. The command to prophesy "against" (al, עַל) the land emphasizes adversarial relationship—God opposes His own people due to covenant violation.

Historical Context

Jerusalem housed the temple, David's throne, and covenant promises—seemingly guaranteeing divine protection. False prophets promoted this false security (Jeremiah 7:4). Ezekiel's command to prophesy against even holy places shattered presumption that sacred geography provided immunity. When Babylon destroyed the temple (586 BC), this prophecy was vindicated—holiness requires obedience, not merely designated space.

Study Questions

1. How does prophesying against 'holy places' challenge presumption based on religious heritage?
2. What does God's adversarial stance toward His own people teach about covenant accountability?
3. In what ways might contemporary Christians presume on God's protection despite living in disobedience?
