

Ezekiel 23:47

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the company shall stone them with stones, and dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

Analysis

And the company shall stone them with stones describes execution method for adultery (Deuteronomy 22:21-24; John 8:5). And dispatch them with their swords adds military slaughter to judicial execution. They shall slay their sons and their daughters extends judgment to the next generation—covenant curses include children (Exodus 20:5). And burn up their houses with fire refers to total urban destruction. Each element corresponds to specific covenant curses (Deuteronomy 28). The progression—execution, slaughter, generational destruction, physical devastation—represents comprehensive judgment leaving nothing intact. When God judges, He judges thoroughly. Partial judgment doesn't accomplish His purposes; complete purgation is required. This is terrifying unless we realize Christ endured comprehensive judgment for us at the cross.

Historical Context

Jerusalem's fall included all these elements: execution of leaders at Riblah (2 Kings 25:18-21), general slaughter during siege and aftermath, death of children from famine and violence, and burning of city and temple (2 Kings 25:9). Covenant curses were fulfilled literally in every detail, demonstrating the certainty and precision of God's word.

Study Questions

1. Why is God's judgment comprehensive rather than partial?
2. What does thorough judgment reveal about sin's seriousness?
3. How does Christ's comprehensive suffering satisfy comprehensive justice?
