

Ezekiel 27:34

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

Analysis

When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people— Tyre's commercial reach: עֲזֹבֹנַיִךְ ('izbônayik, 'your merchandise') מִיַּמִּים (miyyammîm, 'from the seas') הִשְׂבַּעְתָּ עַמִּים רַבִּים (hisba'at 'ammîm rabbîm, 'satisfied many peoples'). The verb שָׂבַע (sāba', 'to be satisfied/filled') suggests Tyre provided abundance.

Thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise— Tyre's wealth enriched monarchs: הֶעֱשִׂיתָ מַלְכֵי-אָרֶץ (he'eshartē malkhê-'āreṣ, 'you made rich the kings of earth'). But wealth without worship, commerce without covenant, produces judgment. Tyre's error was self-sufficiency (28:2—'thou hast said, I am a God'). Prosperity became pride, trade became trust, wealth replaced worship. Her riches couldn't save her—highlighting that material abundance, while potentially good, becomes idolatrous when divorced from acknowledging God as ultimate provider (Deuteronomy 8:17-18).

Historical Context

Tyre's commercial catalog (27:12-24) shows trade in silver, iron, tin, lead, slaves, horses, ivory, ebony, wine, wool, spices, gold, precious stones—virtually everything valuable in the ancient world. Kings relied on Tyrian goods and expertise. Solomon used Tyrian craftsmen for the temple (1 Kings 5:1-12). But this economic power bred spiritual pride that demanded judgment.
