

Ezekiel 28:21

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Son of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesy against it,

Analysis

And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon—The covenant lawsuit formula: הִנְנִי עָלֶיךָ (hinnēnî 'ālayik, 'behold, I am against you'). When God positions Himself as adversary, no defense avails.

And I will be glorified in the midst of thee—וְנִכְבְּדַתִּי בְּתוֹכָךְ (wěnikhbadtî bēthôkhēkh, 'and I will be glorified in your midst'). The verb כָּבַד (kābad, 'to be heavy/weighty/glorious') shows God's glory manifested through judgment. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her—The recognition formula coupled with וְנִקְדַּשְׁתִּי (wěniqdashtî, 'and I will show myself holy'). God's holiness and glory are vindicated when He judges sin. Sidon's judgment would demonstrate to watching nations that YHWH alone is God, and that holiness demands sin's punishment.

Historical Context

Sidon's judgment came in waves: Babylonian siege (586-573 BC period), Persian destruction (345 BC), and Alexander's conquest (333 BC). Each demonstrated God's sovereignty. The Persian period was particularly devastating—when revolt failed, Sidonians burned their city and themselves rather than surrender. Approximately 40,000 died. God was indeed 'glorified in their midst' through judgment.
