

Ezekiel 9:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

Analysis

He cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand. This begins Ezekiel's terrifying vision of Jerusalem's destruction. The loud divine cry summons executioners with "destroying weapons" (keli mashchito, כְּלֵי מַשְׁחִיתוֹ)—instruments of slaughter. These angelic agents execute God's judgment on the defiled city. The vision graphically portrays what will occur literally when Babylon conquers Jerusalem—divine orchestration of historical catastrophe. God doesn't passively allow destruction; He actively commands it against persistent covenant violation.

Historical Context

This vision (circa 592 BC) preceded Jerusalem's fall by six years, giving prophetic preview of coming judgment. The 'charge over the city' refers to angelic guardians or executioners implementing divine decree. Ancient Near Eastern theology recognized celestial beings executing divine will (2 Kings 19:35; Daniel 10:13, 20). When Babylon actually destroyed Jerusalem (586 BC), Ezekiel's vision was vindicated—what seemed symbolic horror became literal history, confirming God's word through His prophet.

Study Questions

1. How does God commanding destruction challenge views that He merely permits evil without active involvement?
2. What does angelic execution of judgment teach about God using both spiritual and human instruments?
3. In what ways should prophetic visions of judgment shape our urgency in evangelism?
