

Galatians 1:3

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

Analysis

Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, Standard Pauline greeting combining Greek charis (χάρις, "grace") and Hebrew shalom ("peace"), transformed with theological meaning. Grace refers to God's unmerited favor—Galatians' central theme—while peace (eirēnē, εἰρήνη) denotes reconciliation with God resulting from grace.

Order is significant: grace precedes and produces peace. No peace with God without first receiving His grace. This directly counters the Judaizers' teaching that peace comes through law-keeping. The phrase "from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ" presents a single source with Father and Son in unity—the Greek construction links both, affirming Christ's deity and equality with the Father.

The title "Lord" (kyrios, κύριος) was used for Yahweh in the Septuagint, asserting Christ's divine identity. Calling Jesus kyrios in this Roman imperial context, where emperors claimed divine honors, was both theologically profound and politically subversive.

Historical Context

Greco-Roman letters typically began with chairein ("greetings"), Jewish letters with shalom. Paul's Christian adaptation reflects multicultural early Christianity and the gospel's power to unite Jew and Gentile. "Grace" was countercultural in a merit-based society dominated by patron-client relationships, honor-shame dynamics, and works-righteousness. Rome operated on reciprocity—favors given expecting return. Jewish covenantal nomism emphasized Torah faithfulness. Paul's emphasis on free grace challenged both systems.

Study Questions

1. Do you functionally trust in grace plus something else (works, morality, religious performance) rather than grace alone?
2. Where in your life do you lack peace because you haven't fully received and rested in God's grace?
3. What daily decisions reveal whether you truly confess Jesus as Lord or merely give Him lip service?
