

Galatians 5:21

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

Analysis

Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. Paul concludes the vice list with stern warning. "Envyings" (phthonoi, φθόνοι)—envy, spite, jealousy. "Murders" (phonoι, φόνοι)—killing. "Drunkenness" (methai, μέθαι)—intoxication, habitual drunkenness. "Revellings" (kōmoi, κῶμοι)—carousing, wild parties, orgies. "And such like" (kai ta homoia toutois)—and things similar to these. The list is representative, not exhaustive.

"Of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past" (ha prolegō hymin kathōs proeipon)—which I forewarn you, as I previously warned. Paul taught this during his initial ministry. "That they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God" (hoti hoi ta toiauta prassontes basileian theou ou klēronomēsousin). Present participle "do" (prassontes) suggests habitual practice, lifestyle. Not sinless perfection required but directional life. Habitually practicing these works evidences unregenerate heart. True believers struggle with remaining sin but don't contentedly practice these works as lifestyle. This warns against false assurance.

Historical Context

Paul's warning echoes Jesus (Matthew 7:21-23), James (James 2:14-26), and John (1 John 3:4-10): profession without transformation indicates false faith. This challenged easy-believism and cheap grace then and now. Justification by faith alone doesn't mean faith that remains alone—true faith produces Spirit-fruit, not flesh-works. Those habitually practicing vice-list behaviors without repentance give evidence of unregenerate hearts, regardless of profession. Pastoral application: comfort the afflicted (struggling believers burdened by remaining sin), afflict the comfortable (professing Christians contentedly living in sin).

Study Questions

1. How do you distinguish between struggling with remaining sin versus habitually practicing works of the flesh as a lifestyle?
2. What does it mean that those who 'do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God'—is this losing salvation or never having it?
3. How should this warning affect both your assurance of salvation and your pursuit of holiness?
