

Hebrews 3:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

Analysis

Christ's faithfulness to God matches Moses' faithfulness (Numbers 12:7), but with a crucial difference established in verse 3. The term 'appointed' (Greek 'poiesanti') shows both were divinely commissioned. Faithfulness is the essential qualification for ministry—reliability and trustworthiness in executing God's purposes.

Historical Context

Moses' faithfulness was legendary in Judaism, making him the highest human standard. The author grants Moses full honor while preparing to show Christ's greater glory as Son versus servant.
