

Hebrews 6:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

Analysis

Quoting Genesis 22:17, the double emphasis 'blessing I will bless you, and multiplying I will multiply you' uses Hebrew infinitive absolute for emphasis (doubling the verb). This promise includes both spiritual blessing (justification, adoption) and numerical multiplication (countless spiritual descendants through Christ). Reformed covenant theology sees all believers as Abraham's true children (Galatians 3:29), inheritors of these promises.

Historical Context

Abraham's physical descendants (Israel) partially fulfilled this numerically, but the ultimate fulfillment is the multinational church, Abraham's spiritual seed through faith in Christ (Galatians 3:7-9).

Study Questions

1. How do you share in the blessings promised to Abraham?
2. What does it mean to be 'multiplied' as Abraham's spiritual offspring?
