

Hebrews 8:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

Analysis

The new covenant's mechanism: 'I will put My laws in their mind and write them on their hearts.' This is internal transformation, not external legislation. The Spirit enables obedience from regenerate hearts, not merely external compliance. The result is intimate relationship: 'I will be their God, and they shall be My people.' Reformed theology sees regeneration and the Spirit's indwelling as distinguishing the new covenant from the old.

Historical Context

This contrasts with the stone tablets at Sinai. Ezekiel 36:26-27 similarly promises a new heart and God's Spirit within, enabling obedience. The new covenant accomplishes what the old commanded but couldn't enable.

1. How does the Spirit's internal work differ from external law-keeping?
2. What does it mean practically that God's law is written on your heart?
