

Hebrews 9:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

Analysis

Above the ark were 'cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat.' The mercy seat (Greek 'hilastērion' - place of propitiation) was where blood was sprinkled on the Day of Atonement, making atonement for sin. The cherubim's presence indicates God's throne. Paul uses 'hilastērion' for Christ (Romans 3:25) - He is the true mercy seat where God's wrath is propitiated. The author declines to detail these ('we cannot now speak particularly'), focusing on their fulfillment in Christ.

Historical Context

Leviticus 16 describes the Day of Atonement ritual where the high priest sprinkled blood on the mercy seat. This annual ceremony temporarily covered sin, pointing to Christ's once-for-all sacrifice that actually removes sin.

Study Questions

1. How is Christ the true 'mercy seat' where God's justice and mercy meet?
2. What does the mercy seat's location (between cherubim, above the ark) teach about approaching God?
