

Hosea 2:17

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

Analysis

Removing idolatrous names: 'For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.' God promises to erase Baal from Israel's vocabulary—not merely practice but memory. The Hebrew 'take away' (hasiroti) means remove completely. 'Out of her mouth' indicates speech patterns, suggesting thorough cognitive transformation. 'No more remembered' (lo yizzakru) means forgotten, becoming unthinkable. This requires internal change beyond human capacity—only regeneration by the Spirit produces such transformation. Ezekiel 36:25-27 prophesies this: 'I will give you a new heart...put my Spirit within you, causing you to walk in my statutes.' External reform can't erase idolatry from hearts; only new birth creates genuine devotion to God. This anticipates new covenant reality: Christ's work enables transformed affections (2 Corinthians 5:17), making sin that once attracted us repulsive and God our supreme delight.

Historical Context

Post-exilic Judaism developed strong aversion to idolatry, largely fulfilling this prophecy. After Babylonian captivity, Jews never again fell into widespread idol worship—the Exile 'cured' them. Yet Jesus revealed internal idolatry persists despite external purity (Matthew 15:18-19, 23:25-28). True fulfillment requires Holy Spirit's internal work, begun at Pentecost (Acts 2) and continuing in regeneration of believers. That Baal's 'name' would be forgotten shows thorough transformation—not merely avoiding practice but losing all appeal. This demonstrates sanctification's goal: not merely resisting sin but finding it genuinely unattractive as God becomes our treasure (Matthew 13:44-46). Only Christ makes this possible through His Spirit dwelling in believers (John 14:16-17, Romans 8:9-11).

Study Questions

1. Have I experienced internal transformation where former idols lose appeal, or do I merely resist them externally?
2. What evidence of Spirit-wrought change demonstrates that idolatrous 'names' are being removed from my heart and mouth?
