

Hosea 5:13

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

Analysis

Failed alliances: 'When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.' Recognizing illness (חֲלוּלָהּ, choli) and wound (מַצֹּר, mazor), Israel sought help from Assyria and 'king Jareb' (likely title meaning 'great king' or possibly Jareb is scornful name meaning 'contender'). But political alliances cannot heal spiritual diseases. Human solutions fail for divine problems. Isaiah similarly condemns trusting Egypt rather than God (Isaiah 30:1-3, 31:1-3). Only Christ heals our spiritual wounds (Isaiah 53:5, 1 Peter 2:24). The irony: seeking help from eventual destroyer—Assyria would annihilate northern Israel.

Historical Context

Historically, both Israel and Judah sought Assyrian help. Menahem paid tribute to Tiglath-Pileser III (2 Kings 15:19-20). Pekah allied with Syria against Assyria (2 Kings 15:37). Hoshea initially rebelled then submitted (2 Kings 17:3-4). Ahaz of Judah appealed to Assyria against Syria-Israel coalition (2 Kings 16:7-9). Each alliance proved disastrous: Assyria exacted tribute, demanded vassalage, eventually destroyed northern kingdom entirely. This demonstrates that political machinations cannot solve problems rooted in spiritual unfaithfulness. Only returning to God brings healing. Church history parallels: seeking worldly power and political alliances rather than spiritual reformation inevitably weakens the church.

Study Questions

1. Why do people persistently seek human solutions for spiritual problems, and what does this reveal about unbelief?
2. How does seeking healing from 'Assyria' (worldly powers) rather than God compound rather than solve problems?
