

Hosea 6:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

Analysis

Resurrection promise: 'After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.' This profound prophecy uses resurrection imagery: יַחַיֵּנוּ (yechayenu, 'revive us'), יַעֲרִמֵּנוּ (yeqimenu, 'raise us up'), נַחְיֶה (nichyeh, 'we shall live'). The 'third day' language anticipates Christ's resurrection (Luke 24:46, 1 Corinthians 15:4). While immediate context references Israel's hoped-for quick restoration (a superficial repentance, as v.4 reveals), the ultimate fulfillment is Christ rising the third day, bringing life to all who believe. The phrase 'live in his sight' (לְפָנָיו, lefanav—before His face) describes covenant presence restored. This demonstrates that all Old Testament hope finds fulfillment in Christ's resurrection, which guarantees our resurrection (1 Corinthians 15:20-23).

Historical Context

In context, this verse forms part of Israel's shallow repentance (6:1-3)—words without heart transformation. They expected quick restoration ('two days...third day') without genuine repentance, treating God's mercy as automatic. Yet the 'third day' language became prophetically significant: Jesus rose the third day, validating His identity and work. Early church recognized this connection, citing it as prophecy fulfilled (Acts 10:40, 1 Corinthians 15:4). Jewish interpretation sees 'third day' as deliverance day (Genesis 22:4, 42:18, Exodus 19:16, Joshua 2:16). Archaeological evidence shows Israel's historical restorations were never easy or quick, exposing their presumptuous expectation. True restoration came only through Christ's resurrection.

Study Questions

---

1. How does Christ's third-day resurrection transform this verse from Israel's shallow hope into certain promise for believers?
2. What distinguishes genuine repentance leading to spiritual resurrection from shallow repentance expecting quick restoration without transformation?
3. How does 'living in His sight' (ongoing covenant presence) differ from mere deliverance from consequences?
