

Isaiah 1:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.

Analysis

The shocking address to Judah's leaders as 'rulers of Sodom' and 'people of Gomorrah' declares that moral corruption, not just physical destruction, equates them with history's most infamous cities. This prophetic reversal strips away their covenant presumption—God treats rebellious Jerusalem no differently than pagan Sodom. The call to 'hear' demands attentive obedience, not mere listening.

Historical Context

Sodom's sin encompassed pride, prosperity without compassion, and sexual immorality (Ezekiel 16:49-50). Judah's leaders exhibited similar arrogance and social injustice despite their religious heritage.

Study Questions

1. In what ways might religious privilege blind you to sins God clearly sees?
2. How does Jesus's comparison of Sodom's judgment to those rejecting the gospel (Matthew 10:15) relate to this passage?
