

Isaiah 1:6

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

Analysis

The complete body survey from sole to head emphasizes total corruption with no sound part remaining. The three-fold description of wounds (fresh), bruises (swollen), and putrefying sores (infected and untreated) portrays progressively worsening spiritual condition. The lack of medical treatment indicates both the severity and the neglect of their moral state.

Historical Context

Ancient Near Eastern medicine emphasized binding wounds and applying soothing oil. The absence of these treatments pictures a people who have abandoned even basic spiritual health practices.

Study Questions

1. Are you addressing spiritual wounds promptly, or allowing them to fester?
2. What does complete reliance on God's healing look like in your current circumstances?
