

Isaiah 10:27

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

Analysis

The burden (Assyrian oppression) will be removed and the yoke destroyed. The phrase 'because of the anointing' is challenging—it may refer to God's anointed king (Hezekiah/Messiah) or the anointing oil making yokes slip off. Either way, divine intervention breaks oppression. The yoke's destruction 'because of the anointing' ultimately points to Messiah, who breaks sin's yoke through His anointing by the Spirit. This illustrates Christ as the ultimate Deliverer who frees from all bondage.

Historical Context

Immediately fulfilled when Assyria's yoke was broken from Judah (701 BC). More fully fulfilled in Christ, the Anointed One (Messiah/Christ means 'Anointed'), who breaks sin's yoke (Matthew 11:28-30). Jesus's anointing by the Spirit (Isaiah 61:1; Luke 4:18) empowered Him to liberate captives. Every yoke-breaking deliverance in Scripture prefigures Christ's ultimate liberation.
