

Isaiah 34:8

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For it is the day of the LORD'S vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversy of Zion.

Analysis

The "day of the LORD's vengeance" (Hebrew "yom naqam") is central to prophetic eschatology—a day when God actively intervenes to judge evil and vindicate His people. "Recompense" (shillem) implies paying what is due, emphasizing justice not arbitrary punishment. Zion's controversy represents all covenant conflicts between God's kingdom and rebellious nations. This prefigures the final day when Christ returns to judge the living and the dead.

Historical Context

Edom's participation in Jerusalem's sacking (Psalm 137:7) created a "controversy" requiring divine justice. God promised Abraham that those who cursed his descendants would be cursed (Genesis 12:3).
