

Isaiah 37:28

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in,
and thy rage against me.

Analysis

The declaration "I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in" demonstrates omniscience—God observes every movement and plan. "Thy rage against me" identifies the core sin: not military action but rebellion against divine authority. God sees both external actions and internal attitudes. The comprehensive knowledge "I know" repeated emphasizes nothing escapes divine awareness. This sets up the judgment—since God knows all, He will respond appropriately.

Historical Context

Divine omniscience appears throughout Scripture (Psalm 139:1-6). God's comprehensive knowledge of enemies encourages His people that justice will be done.

Related Passages

Genesis 1:1 — Creation of heavens and earth

Psalms 19:1 — Heavens declare God's glory

Study Questions

1. How does God's omniscience of our enemies' plans comfort us during opposition?
2. What does it mean that God sees both actions and heart attitudes?
3. How should awareness of God's comprehensive knowledge affect our own thoughts and plans?

Interlinear Text

וְשִׁבְתָּךְ	וְצֵאתָךְ	וּבֹאֲךָ	יָדַעְתִּי	וְאֵת	הַתְּכַבֵּזְךָ
thy abode	and thy going out	and thy coming in	But I know	H853	and thy rage
H3427	H3318	H935	H3045		H7264
אֵלַי:
H413

From KJV Study • kjevstudy.org