

Isaiah 41:17

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

Analysis

God's compassion for the poor and needy ('aniyim' and 'evyonim'—the afflicted and destitute) seeking water introduces a restoration promise. When their tongue fails for thirst, God promises, 'I the LORD will hear them...will not forsake them.' This echoes the wilderness provision under Moses, now applied to return from exile.

Historical Context

The journey from Babylon through arid regions required divine provision. This promise recalled the Exodus and assured similar miraculous sustenance for the new exodus from Babylon.
