

Isaiah 48:4

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass;

Analysis

The description 'thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass' depicts stubborn, unyielding resistance to God - a stiff neck that won't bow and a hardened forehead that won't shame. This echoes Exodus 32:9's 'stiffnecked people' and anticipates Romans 2:5's 'hardness and impenitent heart.' The metaphor shows that sin is fundamentally volitional stubbornness requiring supernatural grace to break.

Historical Context

Israel's persistent idolatry despite repeated judgments demonstrated this stubborn resistance. The same stubbornness that refused prophets would later crucify Christ, showing that unregenerate human nature remains unchanged across generations.
