

Isaiah 49:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The LORD hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

Analysis

The Servant's declaration 'The LORD hath called me from the womb' echoes Jeremiah 1:5 and anticipates Galatians 1:15, establishing God's sovereign election before conscious choice. The phrase 'from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name' asserts predestination - God knew and named His Servant in eternity. While Isaiah may partially fulfill this, ultimate reference is to Christ whose incarnation was eternally planned.

Historical Context

This second Servant Song (49:1-13) expands the mission from Israel (42:1-9) to include Gentiles. The call 'from the womb' distinguishes the Servant from prophets who were called during their lifetime, pointing to Christ's unique origin.
