

Isaiah 49:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

Analysis

The commission to 'say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves' describes the gospel's liberating power. Prisoners cannot free themselves; the Servant's authoritative word releases them. The promise 'they shall feed in the ways' depicts abundant provision - not mere survival but thriving. This anticipates Jesus' proclamation of 'liberty to the captives' (Luke 4:18) and 'I am the door' imagery (John 10:9).

Historical Context

Immediate fulfillment came through Cyrus's decree freeing exiles, but ultimate fulfillment is spiritual release from sin's bondage. Jesus' ministry consistently freed those imprisoned by demonic, physical, and spiritual oppression.
