

Isaiah 5:27

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken:

Analysis

The invading army's tireless perfection—'none shall be weary,' 'none shall slumber nor sleep,' unbroken equipment—depicts divinely empowered judgment force. The hyperbolic description (shoes and latches unbroken) emphasizes that when God commissions judgment, nothing hinders its execution. This supernatural efficiency demonstrates that resistance to divine judgment is futile, anticipating Joel's description of the Lord's army (Joel 2:7-9).

Historical Context

Assyrian military machine was renowned for discipline and effectiveness. Isaiah presents their success as divinely enabled, making resistance not merely militarily but theologically futile.
