

Isaiah 51:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

Analysis

The command to 'look unto the rock whence ye are hewn' calls believers to remember their spiritual origin - Abraham and Sarah's barrenness transformed by God's promise. The quarry metaphor emphasizes that our existence derives entirely from God's sovereign work, not human merit or effort. This grounds identity in divine grace and demolishes all boasting except in God's transforming power (1 Corinthians 1:29-31).

Historical Context

Exiles descended from Abraham (one man) miraculously blessed into multitudes. Remembering this origin encouraged faith that God could again multiply the small returning remnant. The same God who made Abraham's barrenness fruitful could restore desolate Israel.
