

Isaiah 52:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

Analysis

The command 'Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem' calls ruins to celebrate coming restoration. The reason: 'the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.' This linkage of comfort and redemption shows that true consolation comes only through salvation. The personification of ruins singing depicts comprehensive transformation - even inanimate creation rejoices at redemption.

Historical Context

Jerusalem's ruins did eventually see rebuilding under Nehemiah, but complete fulfillment awaits new Jerusalem descending from heaven (Revelation 21:2). The 'waste places' singing anticipates Romans 8:21 - creation's liberation from bondage at Christ's return.
