

Isaiah 56:12

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

Analysis

The final indictment quotes the leaders: 'Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.' Indulgence today, assumed prosperity tomorrow - this denial of coming judgment epitomizes false security.

Historical Context

This attitude persisted until Babylon's destruction. Leaders assured people all was well while disaster approached. Such false prophets always say 'peace' when there is no peace (Jeremiah 6:14).

Genesis 1:1 — Creation of heavens and earth

Colossians 1:16 — All things created through Christ

Study Questions

1. How do you recognize the false security of 'tomorrow will be like today'?
2. What does it look like to live with appropriate urgency about spiritual realities?
