

Isaiah 6:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.

Analysis

God's commission is shocking: proclaim a message that will result in people hearing but not understanding, seeing but not perceiving. This judicial hardening represents God's judgment on persistent rejection—He confirms people in their chosen path. Jesus quotes this passage explaining why He taught in parables (Matthew 13:14-15), and Paul applies it to Jewish rejection of the gospel (Acts 28:26-27). God's Word either softens or hardens hearts.

Historical Context

Isaiah's ministry would largely meet rejection, yet he faithfully proclaimed God's message for 60+ years. The hardening wasn't arbitrary but judicial response to persistent rebellion against revealed truth.
