

Isaiah 63:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

Analysis

'And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.' This echoes 59:16 exactly - God finds no helper, acts alone. The Hebrew 'zera' (arm) represents divine power. Fury and salvation merge as God accomplishes His purposes.

Historical Context

The repeated theme of divine solo action emphasizes that salvation is entirely God's work. Human helpers fail; God prevails. This is the foundation of grace theology.
