

Isaiah 9:11

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Therefore the LORD shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and join his enemies together;

Analysis

God responds to pride by intensifying judgment. 'Therefore' indicates consequence—pride brings escalation. 'Set up the adversaries of Rezin against him' refers to Assyria defeating Syria, then turning on Israel who had allied with Syria. 'Join his enemies together' suggests coalitions forming against Israel. God sovereignly orchestrates historical events to accomplish His purposes, even using pagan nations as judgment instruments. This demonstrates the Reformed doctrine of providence—God governs all events, including enemy actions, to fulfill His purposes.

Historical Context

Rezin of Syria allied with Pekah of Israel against Assyria (735-732 BC). God raised up Assyria to defeat Syria first (732 BC), then turn on Israel. The 'adversaries' included not only Assyria but also various peoples Assyria mobilized. By 722 BC, Samaria fell. God's sovereign control over international politics accomplished His declared purposes with precision. The nations were pawns in God's hands, unknowingly executing His judgments.
