

Jeremiah 13:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.

Analysis

This verse begins interpretation: 'Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.' 'After this manner' (kakah) connects sign to meaning. 'Mar' (ashchith) uses the same root as the girdle's 'marred' condition (v. 7)—God will do to Judah what happened to the garment. 'Pride' (ge'on, גָּאֹן) of both Judah and Jerusalem will be ruined. Pride—national arrogance, presumption on election, confidence in temple—is the specific target. As the girdle rotted, so Judah's pride will decay.

Historical Context

Judah's pride included confidence in the temple's inviolability (7:4), election as covenant people (2:3), and Davidic dynasty promises. These genuine privileges became sources of presumption rather than gratitude. The exile would 'mar' this pride—humiliated, conquered, temple destroyed, king deposed. National arrogance would be thoroughly broken.
