

Jeremiah 21:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

Analysis

God declares He will personally fight against Jerusalem with 'an outstretched hand and with a strong arm' - language typically describing His deliverance of Israel from Egypt (Deut 4:34). Now those same redemptive hands work in judgment. God's 'anger, and fury, and great wrath' emphasize the intensity of deserved judgment when His people persistently reject Him.

Historical Context

This reversal is devastating - the God who fought for Israel now fights against them. The covenant includes both blessings and curses (Deut 28).

Study Questions

1. How does the covenant include both blessing and judgment?
2. What does it mean that God's hand can both save and judge?
