

Jeremiah 23:29

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

Analysis

Is not my word like as a fire...and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? (עלֹךְ יִפְצֹץ! שִׁפְטִי...כְּאֵשׁ, ka'esh...ukh'pattish y'fotsets sala)—fire (אֵשׁ) and hammer (שִׁפְטִי) describe transformative, destructive power. Fire refines and consumes; hammers shatter resistant stone (עֶלֶךְ). The verb יִפְצֹץ (patsats) means total fragmentation.

Hebrews 4:12 echoes this: 'The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword.' Fire melts metals; hammers break stone for building. God's word either refines or destroys. The hardest hearts cannot withstand its impact. False prophecy lacks this power—it tickles, not transforms. Authentic divine word breaks through resistance with uncontainable force.

Historical Context

Ancient metallurgy used fire for refining precious metals (Malachi 3:2-3). Stoneworking employed hammers and chisels. These technologies provided tangible metaphors for spiritual reality. Jeremiah experienced God's word as 'fire shut up in my bones' (Jeremiah 20:9)—he couldn't contain it.
