

Jeremiah 48:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

Analysis

'Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD deceitfully' warns against half-hearted obedience in executing God's purposes. The Hebrew 'remiyah' (deceitfully/negligently) suggests doing God's work carelessly or with mixed motives. Those called to implement God's judgment must do so thoroughly, not hesitantly. This applies broadly to all ministry - doing God's work requires wholehearted commitment, not lukewarm effort.

Historical Context

This verse was directed at those who would execute judgment on Moab. Incomplete obedience in God's appointed tasks brings curse rather than blessing.

Study Questions

1. In what areas are you tempted to serve God half-heartedly or negligently?
2. How does God's call for wholehearted service challenge your current ministry efforts?
