

Jeremiah 48:25

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

Analysis

The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken (וַיִּגְדַּעַה קֶרֶן מוֹאָב וַיִּזְרְעוּ נִשְׁבָּרָה) —The qeren (horn) symbolizes power and authority (1 Samuel 2:10; Psalm 75:10), while zero'a (arm) represents military strength. Both are nigde'ah (cut off) and nishbarah (broken)—violent, permanent removal of capacity to resist or defend.

Hannah's song celebrates God exalting the horn of His anointed (1 Samuel 2:10); here He cuts off the horn of the proud. The dual imagery (horn and arm) covers both symbolic authority and practical power—Moab loses legitimacy and capability simultaneously. This anticipates Revelation's beast whose power is broken (Revelation 19:19-20). No human strength withstands divine opposition.

Historical Context

Horns frequently adorned ancient Near Eastern altars (Exodus 27:2) and symbolized deity and kingship. Moabite kings likely wore horned crowns or helmets, as depicted in ancient iconography. The 'broken arm' suggests military defeat—armies disarmed and disbanded. After Babylon's conquest, Moab ceased to exist as an independent kingdom, becoming a Persian province. The nation's 'horn' and 'arm' were permanently severed.
