

Jeremiah 48:47

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

Analysis

Despite comprehensive judgment, God promises to 'bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days.' This surprising grace mirrors His treatment of other nations (49:6, 39). God's judgments on nations aren't His final word - restoration is possible. This anticipates the gospel's reach to all nations through Christ. No people are beyond redemption's scope.

Historical Context

This promise looks eschatologically toward the inclusion of Gentile nations in God's kingdom. Moab's restoration symbolizes gospel universality.

Study Questions

1. How does God's promise to restore even judged nations reflect the gospel's reach?
2. What does this teach about the extent of God's redemptive purposes?
