

Jeremiah 49:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

I have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.

Analysis

I have heard a rumour from the LORD (שְׁמוּעָה שָׁמַטִּי, shemu'ah shamati)—Jeremiah receives divine intelligence about Edom's impending judgment. The tsir (צִיר, ambassador) sent among nations coordinates the coalition against Edom, showing God's sovereignty over international politics. This prophetic eavesdropping on heaven's war council echoes Isaiah's vision and demonstrates that no nation escapes Yahweh's judicial oversight.

Gather ye together, and come against her—The imperative forms signal God's active orchestration of judgment through human agency. Edom, Judah's blood relative through Esau, will face the same Babylonian sword they celebrated when Jerusalem fell (Obadiah 10-14). The bitter irony: Edom's schadenfreude becomes their own obituary.

Historical Context

This oracle against Edom (586-585 BC) follows Jerusalem's destruction. The Edomites had betrayed their Judahite kinsmen by assisting Babylon and plundering refugees. Nabonidus of Babylon would campaign against Edom circa 553 BC, fulfilling this prophecy.
