

Job 19:29

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know there is a judgment.

Analysis

Job warns his accusers: 'But ye should say, Why persecute we him, seeing the root of the matter is found in me?' Job challenges his friends to examine themselves—they persecute him while 'the root of the matter' (essence of righteousness/faith) exists in him. This warns that their accusations will bring judgment on themselves. Job prophetically anticipates God's later rebuke of his friends (42:7-8).

Historical Context

Ancient Near Eastern wisdom valued finding 'the root of the matter'—the essential truth beneath appearances. Job claims his friends miss this root while fixating on surface interpretation of his suffering. God later vindicates this claim by rebuking the friends.
