

Job 4:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake.

Analysis

Eliphaz describes his vision: 'Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake.' The Hebrew 'pachad' (fear) and 'ra'adah' (trembling) suggest terror, while 'pagar' (meet/encounter) indicates unexpected confrontation. Eliphaz's physical response—bones shaking—supposedly validates his revelation's divine origin. Yet Scripture shows that dramatic experiences don't guarantee true revelation (Matthew 7:22-23). God's word must be tested against God's revealed character.

Historical Context

Prophetic experiences in the ancient Near East often included physical manifestations—trembling, fear, overwhelming presence. Eliphaz's description follows conventional patterns for claiming divine encounter.
