

Joel 2:31

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.

Analysis

The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood (Hebrew hashemesh yehafekh lechoshekheh vehayare'ach ledam, הַשְׁמֵשׁ יְהִפְךּ לְחֹשֶׁךְ וְהַיְרֵם לְדָם)—these celestial bodies won't merely dim but fundamentally change character. The verb hafakh (הַפְךּ, "be turned/changed") indicates transformation or reversal—these celestial bodies won't merely dim but fundamentally change character. The sun becoming choshek (חשֵׁךּ, darkness) echoes the ninth plague on Egypt (Exodus 10:21-23) and foreshadows Christ's crucifixion when "there was darkness over all the earth" (Luke 23:44). The moon becoming dam (דם, blood) suggests a red appearance, possibly from atmospheric disturbances, dust, or divine miracle.

Before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come (Hebrew lifnei bo yom-YHWH hagadol vehanora, לִפְנֵי בּוֹא יוֹם־יְהוָה הַגָּדוֹל וְהַנּוֹרָא)—these cosmic signs precede and announce the climactic Day of the LORD. Lifnei (לִפְנֵי, "before") indicates these aren't the Day itself but warning signs. Gadol (גדֹל, "great") describes magnitude and significance. Nora (נּוֹרָא, "terrible/awesome/fearful") conveys the terrifying nature of God's judgment—this isn't celebration but dread for the unrepentant.

Jesus referenced these signs in the Olivet Discourse: "Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken" (Matthew 24:29). Peter quoted Joel 2:28-32 at Pentecost (Acts 2:16-21), applying it to the last days inaugurated by Christ's resurrection and ascension. The signs began at the cross (darkness, earthquake) and continue through church history, culminating in final cosmic dissolution before Christ's return. Revelation 6:12 describes these events: "And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood."

Historical Context

"The Day of the LORD" (yom-YHWH) is a central prophetic theme appearing throughout Scripture. Originally, Israel expected it as the day God would judge their enemies and vindicate His people. Prophets shocked listeners by declaring that unfaithful Israel would first face judgment (Amos 5:18-20, Zephaniah 1:14-18). The Day has both near and far fulfillments—historical judgments (Babylonian conquest, Roman destruction of Jerusalem in AD 70) and ultimate eschatological judgment at Christ's return. Each historical fulfillment previews and guarantees the final Day when Christ returns to judge the living and dead (2 Thessalonians 1:7-10, 2 Peter 3:10-13, Revelation 19-20).

Study Questions

1. How do cosmic signs preceding judgment demonstrate both God's mercy (warning before judgment) and His power (controlling creation)?
2. What does calling the Day "great and terrible" teach about the dual nature of Christ's return—deliverance for believers, judgment for unbelievers?

3. How should certainty of Christ's return and cosmic judgment shape your priorities, evangelism, and holiness?
