

John 1:3

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

Analysis

---

This verse establishes Christ's role as Creator, affirming His deity and pre-existence. The Greek 'egeneto' (came into being) distinguishes created things from the eternal Logos. Paul echoes this in Colossians 1:16, showing Christ's supremacy over all creation. This theological foundation refutes any notion that Christ was a created being, central to orthodox Christology.

Historical Context

Written around 90-100 AD, John's Gospel combats early Gnostic heresies that denied Christ's full deity. This verse directly addresses Docetic teachings that separated the divine Christ from the human Jesus.
