

John 1:48

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.

Analysis

Nathanael's astonished question—"Whence knowest thou me?"—exposes the supernatural nature of Jesus' knowledge. Jesus reveals He saw Nathanael 'under the fig tree' before Philip called him. This detail, unknown to any human witness, demonstrates divine omniscience. The fig tree may have been Nathanael's place of private prayer or Scripture meditation. Jesus sees into hidden places and knows us intimately before we know Him.

Historical Context

Sitting under one's fig tree was a common metaphor for peace, security, and particularly Torah study (Micah 4:4, Zechariah 3:10). Rabbis often taught under trees. Jesus' knowledge of this private moment convinced Nathanael of Jesus' supernatural identity. The Lord knows our hidden devotion as well as our hidden sins.
